

I'm writing as a concerned citizen that a radio station that provides morally sound, clean, and wholesome listening such as K-LOVE could lose coverage to the surrounding area it serves because of Low Power FM stations being given more priority. K-LOVE offers a refreshing alternative to the stations which offer music and language heavily slanted with sex, violence, hate, alcohol, drugs, promiscuous behavior and more. As a new father, I can only hope that my son will have a station like K-LOVE to choose on the FM dial in Sacramento and other places around the country which K-LOVE serves. In the past 3 years my family has lived not only in Sacramento, but in Phoenix and Denver. Each of these locations K-LOVE provides support for local homeless shelters, and encourages listeners to get involved not only with helping the homeless, but many more community supporting projects. Cities and communities are made stronger with K-LOVE. Please consider this.

Sincerely,
James Bisping
